BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENTS

35% Convention Has Its First Difficulty Over Crosses of Honor.

> Washington, November 14.—A bril-liant series of social functions cen-tring about a reception by President Taft marked to-day's session of the convention of the United Daughters of

The President received nearly 1,000 of the Daughters in the East Room of the White House. He was assisted by Mrs. Taft, and as the visitors filed by the President had a hearty handby the President had a hearty hand-shake and a word of greeting for each A score of receptions, teas and dinners for various groups of the Daughiers were given by Washington society women. Mrs. Mary Butler, president of the District of Columbia Division of the Daughters, entertained the gen-dral officers of the organization at dinner.

To-day's business sessions were confined largely to the receipt of the re-ports of the officers and committees. The convention accepted two general scholarships, one from Chicago Uni-versity and one from Loretta Convent of Kentucky, in connection with the report of the education committee.

A decision in the matter of extending the time for the issuing of crosses of honor to Confederate veterans, which aroused a storm on the floor of the convention, was postponed while pending the reports of various commit-tees on the recommendations of the general officers on the subject.

Visit Academy To-Day.

To-morrow the delegates to the convention will visit the Naval Academy at Annapolis and will be the guests of Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland.

The question of extending the time for the issuing of crosses of honor caused the first difficulty that has appeared in the sessions of the conven-tion, when Mrs. L. H. Raines, cus-todian of the crosses of honor, in het tion, when Mrs. L. H. Raines, todian of the crosses of honor, in het report recommended that the original time limit of November 1, 1912, be adhered to. From the floor a storm or opposition arose. A motion proposing the extend the time to January 19, 1913, was advanced as an amendment to the recommendations of the report. A reene of disorder followed, but Vice-President-General Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, presiding ruled that the discussion was out of order, and the report of Mrs. Raines was finally adopted without the recommendation. Bernocrate Committee of the Ninth Virginia District, following a conference here but nothing to give out relative to the processes for a contest for Siemp's next in Congress, the Republicans appear to be confident what no contest will be made. A. P. Creekelt, Siemp's nevertary, who was here to day, said:

"I have no idea what General Ayers may do, but I doubt if he finds any evidence worthy of a contest. We have evidence worthy of a contest. We have heard from the rounty chairment and from others in every county, and the information that comes to us is that the recent election was froe from the abuse heretofore practiced."
